Planting a Garden

Alissa is planting a garden with her mom. She can hardly wait! It is a warm spring day and they bought seeds for carrots and sunflowers. When they start, the soil feels cool and soft. Alissa loves gardening, but her favorite part is digging in the dirt. In the middle of planting, Alissa digs up a fat earthworm wiggling in the soil.

"Mom! Can we please keep the worm as a helper?" asks Alissa.

"Of course," says her mom.

They gently move the worm to a shady spot in the garden. After planting all the seeds, they water each row carefully. Alissa can't wait to watch her garden grow!
