Trip to the Aquarium

Alissa is going to the aquarium with her class. She can hardly wait! It is a school field trip and today they get to see the new shark tank. When they arrive, the lobby is filled with glowing fish tanks. Alissa loves fish, but her favorite part of the aquarium is the touch pool. In the middle of the tour, a guide lets the class hold a starfish at the touch pool.

"Can I please hold the starfish first?" asks Alissa.

"Of course," says the guide.

She gently holds the starfish and feels its bumpy skin. Before they leave, the whole class watches the sharks swim by the big glass window. Alissa has a wonderful time at the aquarium!
